The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday January 9. to Thursday January 12. 1698.

Warsaw, Dec. 20. N. S.

THE King of Poland continues at Brezza in Lithuania, where he has been very splendidly entertained by Prince Radzivil, Chancellor of that Dutchy. Our Letters from thence say, that notwithstanding the Endeavours of divers Persons of Quality, who were met together at Grodno to reconcile the Houses of Sapieha and Oginsky, neither side do hitherto shew any disposition to enter upon Terms of Accommodation, and have lately had a very hot Engagement, in which the former lost above 2000 Men, and the discontented Nobility pursuing their Advantage, are fallen into the Estates of the Great General and his Adherents, where they commit great Ravages. The Animosities between these two Parties fill the Country with such confusion, that it's thought the General Council of all the Great Officers and Senators of Lithuania, which was summoned to assemble at Brezza, will not meet as was intended, but that the King will be obliged to refer the settling of the Affairs of that Province to the General Diet, which is appointed to be held here in January next. Applications have been made to the King, that the said Diet may be held on Horseback, but it's believed he will not think fit to consent thereto, such Meetings being liable to great Disorders. They write from Lemberg, that the Tartars of Caminiec seem to prepare for some Enterprize against the Territories of Poland, upon which Orders have been given to the Forces quartered in those Parts to be upon their Guard, and diligently to observe the Enemies Motions.

Vienna, Dec. 28. The Count of Marsigly, one of the Emperor's Plenipotentiaries for treating the Truce with the Turks, who came hither some days ago from Carlowitz, to give the Emperor an Account of the Proceedings at the Congress, parted from hence last Sunday on his return to that Place, from whence we have so good an Account of the Progress the several Plenipotentiaries have made in that part of the Treaty which relates to our Allies, that 'tis not doubted but a happy End will now soon be put to this Negotiation, and consequently to a War that has been very burthensome and expensive to the several Parties engaged in it. The Emperor has received a Letter from the King of Poland, whereby he accepts his Imperial Majesty's Mediation for adjusting the Affair of Elbing, which is likewise accepted by the Elector of Brandenbourg; It's said, the King of Denmark, and the States-General of the United Provinces, (who, together with the Emperor, are Guarands of the Treaties between the Crown of Poland and the Elector of Brandenbourg, made at Velau and Bidgost,) will take part in this Mediation; and we are now expecting to hear when and where the Treaty to that effect will be begun. The Prince of Lobkowitz, High-Steward to the new Queen of the Romans, and the Count of Paar, her Master of the Horse, are gone from hence with a very splendid Equipage to receive her on the Frontiers of the Country of Tyrol, where she is expected about the 14th of the next Month, and are to attend her in her Journey from that Place to the Imperial Court. Three Triumphal Arches are erecting here against her Entry, which will be on the 15th of February, and other Preparations are making for performing that Ceremony, and for celebrating her Marriage, with very great Magnificence. Our Letters from Upper-Hungary and Transilvania say, all Things continue very quiet in those Parts, and that the Garrison of the new Fortress near Arat are settled in that Place, and abundantly provided with all Things necessary for their Subsistence, and for the Defence of that Post, which is looked upon to be of very great Advantage to us, as well in securing the Passes over the River Maros, as in protecting that Frontier from the Excursions of the Garrison of Temeswaer, from whence 'tis not above 4 miles distant.

Hambourg, Jan. 2. Nothing new has happened here lately, in relation to the Imperial Commission for enquiring into the Disorders of this City, the Ministers from the Princes Directors of the Circle of Lower-Saxony, to whom the said Commission is directed, having allowed the Burghers of this City a farther time to consider what Resolutions may be proper for them to take in this Occasion. The Conferences for settling the Succession of the late Duke of Mecklembourg Gustraw, which is claimed both by the Duke of Swerin and the Duke of Strelitz, are continued, but hitherto with little Success, each Party insisting on their Pretensions; A Proposal was made, that the Title and Dutchy of Gustraw should be given to the Duke of Swerin, and that he should make the Duke of Strelitz a Compensation for the same; but the Demands of the latter were thought so unreasonable, that the Matter could not be adjusted by this means. They write from Berlin, that the Elector of Brandenbourg intends to go to Prussia next Spring; and that since the King of Poland has accepced the Emperor's Mediation for adjusting the Affair of Elbing, all the Talk there was, that a Negociation would shortly be set on foot for composing that Affair, and that Dantzick or Breslaw would be made choice of for the Place